Echoes of Brown:

Youth Documenting and Performing the Legacy of Brown v. Board of Education

Michelle Fine, Rosemarie A. Roberts, Maria Elena Torre

and Janice Bloom, April Burns, Lori Chajet, Monique Guishard & Yasser Payne

This multi-media resource is indispensable for students, teachers, policy makers, activists, and anyone interested in exploring the history and contemporary landscape of the Brown legacy. The beautiful 4-color book features selected excerpts in text and photos from Echoes, a spoken word and dance performance by a diverse ensemble of youth from suburban and urban schools as well as highlights and startling statistics from Documenting the History of Brown a youth research project about racial and class (in)justice in U.S. schools. Along with the accompanying DVD, Echoes of Brown creates a series of unforgettable echoes on America's long history of yearning, betrayal, victory, and relentless desire among young and old for educational justice.

Accompanying DVD includes:

- Complete 55 minute video of Echoes in which youth speak back to the victories and continuing struggles for justice and democracy in public schools
- Rich video interviews with "elders" who lived through the Brown decision including: Arthur Kinoy (1921-2003) • Sonia Sanchez • Judge Jack Weinstein • Roscoe Brown • Esther Lee • Thea and Bailey Jackson • Adam Green.
- Documenting the History of Brown: a detailed presentation of the results of over 9000 surveys with youth about racial and class (in)justice in U.S. schools
- Participatory Action Research with Youth: commentary and guidance by researchers
- And much more!
